

AiShang Mobility (Hong Kong) Limited

Contact: Chris Lin. Email: chrislin@aimo.ai

Job Position:	Software Engineer - Robotics Research and Development Engineer – Auto Driving/ AI
Locations:	AiShang Mobility (HK) Limited Research Lab in Science Technologies Park, Shatin.
Job Description:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● Based on market requirements, using the latest robotic and artificial intelligent technologies to develop solutions for different industry applications, especially for security industry.● Research the latest technologies and create new solutions for new applications.● Conduct testing and validation of solutions in the lab or at customer site.● Provide technical solutions to field engineering for resolving technical problems with customer projects.● Work with the China team to co-develop productions and solutions for both Hong Kong and international markets.● Travel to different country to understand the technical requirements and help resolve and technical problems encountered, if necessary.
Requirements:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● Bachelor or above degree in Engineering or technical fields from a university● Experience and knowledge in robotic and auto driving.● Experience and knowledge in AI is an advantage● Creative minded, able to research different technologies and come up with technical solutions.● Good writing, presentation, communication and analytical skills● Passionate, self-motivated, good teamwork spirit, able to work under pressure and meet tight deadlines● Applicants may be considered for other positions if not matching the requirements of the subject position● Willing to work in a flexible schedule and travel to other place/countries when needed.● Fresh graduate will be considered